A NOTED BUT UNTILTED WOMAN.

(From the Boston Globe.)

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham.

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents have called her. She is a woman of a life-story, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering or joy as release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful menstruation, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as a standard medicinal show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Bowels. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity."

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Peterson's Magazine for November is on our table, ahead of all others, as usual. How the publisher can afford, not only to maintain its merits, but to keep improving it as he does, is a standing wonder. The present number, for example, has a beautiful steel-plate, "Little Red Riding Hood," a double-sized colored steel fashion plate; another exquisite engraving, "The Falling Leaves," a spirited illustration of a poem, "Nearing Home," a ship in storm on Thanksgiving Eve; and about fifty wood cuts in addition, of new dresses, bonnets, embroidery patterns, etc. Then there is a beautiful colored pattern, "Cherries and Leaves," for a side board cloth—one of those costly and recherche affairs only to be found in "Peterson." The stories are even better than usual, which is saying a good deal. With this number appears the Prospectus for next year, when six copyright novelets will be given, and more than a hundred shorter tales, many of them illustrated. For 1883, the reading matter is to be greatly increased. Undoubtedly 'Peterson' is not only the best, but the cheapest magazine of its kind, being but two dollars a year to single subscribers. To clubs it is still cheaper, viz: four copies for six dollars and a half, with an extra copy to the person getting up the club. Or five copies for eight dollars, with both an extra copy and the copyright engraving (20 inches by 27), "Christ Before Pilate," after Muncak's world-renowned picture, perhaps the greatest premium ever offered. For larger clubs, the price is still lower, while even more premiums are given. Everybody should take this magazine. Now is the time to subscribe. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa. Specimens are sent gratis to get up clubs with.

Paley Among the Veterans.

We are surprised at the number of veterans we saw in attendance at the annual reunion who were more or less afflicted with paralysis. Upon inquiry among those present we were still more astonished to learn that many of the veterans of the adjacent counties were confined at home with the same affliction—too feeble to be in attendance. We made diligent inquiry, and have become well satisfied that the mortality and suffering from paralysis among Tennessee veterans of the Mexican war is all this time greater than among the men of the same age of any other pursuit. This presents grave questions which are in the interest of science and of general humanity, and of special importance to the veterans of that war—perhaps the veterans of all wars. Among other questions we present these: First, is the tendency to paralysis among the veterans of the Mexican war in Tennessee greater than among other citizens of the State of the same age and of similar habits? Second, does such tendency extend to the veterans of that war in any other or in all other localities? Third, what are the causes which have produced that tendency? and do they still exist? Fourth, what can the veteran do in the way of diet, habit, or medicine, to avoid this tendency or palliate its consequences? Many other questions will present themselves to the scientific inquirer which we hope will receive the attention which the importance of the subject claims. We raise these questions not only in the interest of science in general, but of the veterans of the Mexican war in particular. We think they open a wide field of investigation, which we hope some adventurous man of sense will explore.—Nashville (Tenn.) World.

Where Mrs. Hunter Made the Match.

Mrs. Hunter was carrying two bundles aboard the day boat for Albany, in New York City, when Mr. Snyder kindly relieved her of half the burden. On deck they sat down together, and as they talked the Hudson they rapidly grew well acquainted, though previously total strangers. He was a widower, aged 61, and an Ulster County farmer; she was a widow, aged 35, and a seamstress in New York. He asked her to marry him. She was surprised, but not offended. She asked for time to think the offer over. Certainly—he would give her until the boat reached Newburg. Then she must go ashore with him and get married, or stay on board and remain single. Just as the plank was about to be hauled in at Newburg, she said "Yes," and the couple went off with the two bundles. A justice performed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Snyder traveled on by rail.

Free libraries are a great power in the United States.

Forty-nine new ones were opened in 1879, containing 86,779 volumes, making a total of 3,842 public libraries of all classes.

WHY WE HAVE SO FEW GOOD RIDERS.

It has frequently been the subject of remark as to the cause of the scarcity of good Jockeys. To be sure we have some excellent riders—Barrett, Evans, Hughes, Barbee, Feakes, and probably half a dozen others, but not more. The secret is explained in the fact that unless a Jockey takes great care of himself constant exercise in the saddle will superinduce Piles of the most aggravating character, that it intensifies, particularly after getting warm in bed, and thus render him unfit for service on the track. However if Swayne's Ointment were used, the worst case of Itching Piles would be speedily cured.

Astronomical. "Pa, how long has Venus been asleep, and why doesn't she lie down for a change?" said a classical youth. The old gentleman looked at his son with a hopelessly dazed expression for fully five minutes, then sternly asked, "Cyrenus, what have you been drinking?" "Nothing, sir; only I've heard so much of the trance-sit of Venus that I would like to know something of the nature of her somnolency," replied the learned youth.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Why She Won't Marry.

Miss Risley-Seward, a daughter of ex-Solicitor of the Treasury Risley, became a great favorite with William H. Seward while Secretary of State, and subsequently accompanied him during his tour around the world. Mr. Seward in his will bequeathed her $30,000 on condition that she should adopt his name. She accepted the money, adopted the name, and now refuses to marry, because she will not consent to change her name. At present she is in Italy studying the old monasteries of Tuscany.

Spectacles Over the Month.

An elderly gentleman, accustomed to "indulge," entered the room of a certain inn, where sat a grave friend by the fire. Lifting a pair of green spectacles upon his forehead, rubbing his inflamed eyes, and calling for hot brandy and water, he complained to the friend that "his eyes were getting weaker and weaker, and the spectacles did not seem to do him any good." "I'll tell thee, friend," replied the Quaker, "what I think. If it were to wear thy spectacles over thy mouth for a few months, thy eyes would soon get well again."

A Trifling Affair.

The following is said to have happened when the legislature adjourned some months ago, but we did not hear of it until yesterday:

A very prominent member of the legislature, who had been paying a great deal of attention to the widow Bombazine, told her, on calling with his carpet-bag in his hand, that he was about to leave Austin, and she must forget him. She replied that he had trifled with her affections, and now he proposed to leave her desolate.

"It's not my fault," he replied, with tears in his eyes. "I would keep on trifling with your affections if I could only stay here, but as I can't, you will have to get some other trifling cuss to stay here. The organic law is to blame that limits the sessions of the legislature and compels me to leave Austin and go back to my family."—Texas Siftings.

An Astonished Servant Girl.

A lady in Bradford, who had reached the age and condition when she was compelled to rely on the dentist's aid for her molars and incisors, had just engaged a new importation as a servant girl. Coming down one morning, she happened to have left her teeth in her chamber, and before sitting down to breakfast she said to the girl: "Mary, go to my room and bring down my teeth." The girl opened her mouth wide in astonishment at this, and when the request was repeated she was more amazed than ever. Seeing this, the lady asked her son to do the errand, which he did, and she calmly put the teeth in her mouth and proceeded to sit down to breakfast. The girl stood with growing astonishment depicted on her countenance, and when the teeth were put in place she burst out with the exclamation: "Good God! are ye all so?"—Lowell (Mass.) Courier.

In the Way.

The story of the fellow who would not fire "because he only had one charge of powder, and he wished to hunt all day," reminds me of one that I have heard told around the camp fire, which may be new to some of your readers. A young man from the city, brimful of that nameless fear of firearms which haunts the dilettante sportsman who has not pulled a trigger for a year, went for a few days' duck shooting with one of his country cousins. They got very near to an immense flock (or "team," which should I say?) of ducks, which were feeding in shallow water near the shore, and it was agreed that the city man should try a sitting shot, while the "bushman" took them flying. To the disgust of the countryman, the other could not summon sufficient courage to face the explosion that must ensue should he pull the trigger, so he kept aiming and aiming but never firing. "Why in thunder don't you fire?" said his friend. "Because," he replied, "the minute I go to shoot, another duck comes swimming right in the way."—Forest and Stream.

Chicago Mayor Harrison's bride arrived in New York last week, and a reporter called upon her. To him she said Mayor Harrison's son, "a young gentleman and ever so handsome," came to New York to welcome her. The bride is young and ever so handsome. The husband's son who went to receive her is young and ever so handsome; so the public will be curious to see whether this couple reaches Chicago or not. Mayor Carter must look to this.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURE BY Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

- First. Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
- Second. Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
- Third. Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
- Fourth. Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
- Fifth. Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
- Sixth. Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.
